Mrs. W. H. Daniel, of Savannah, is demonstrating the uses and value of Wesson Snowdrift Oil for cooking and salad at The Exchange for Woman's Work, No. 300 East Franklin Street, and will be pleased to have the women of Richmond and vicinity visit the demonstration and luncheon there.

A dainty luncheon is served daily from 12 to 2:30 o'clock, for which a charge of 25 cents is made. Mrs. Daniel conducts her Demonstration Class, to which all are cordially invited, daily from 10:30 to 12 o'clock. She has arranged to instruct four cooks daily, by appointment; arrangements for which instruction must be made in advance with the Superintendent of The Exchange. The Southern Cotton Oil Company has donated to The Exchange for Woman's Work as many 8-ounce cans of Wesson Snowdrift Oil as the Committee in charge can dispose of.

All of the money derived from the sale of these luncheons and oil goes to The Exchange for Woman's Work, to be devoted to their work.

Wesson Snowdrift Oil is a vegetable product. It serves every cooking purpose of the best butter or lard. It cooks food without penetrating. Potatoes, meats, pastry or fish fried in Wesson Snowdrift Oil are crisp and done, without grease inside or out.

Mrs. Daniel will be pleased to explain in every way the use of Wesson Snowdrift Oil.

Buy a can of this oil at 10 cents from the women in charge, thus aiding in a good work, and affording you an opportunity to try this vegetable cooking fat for practically nothing.

Memorial Service at Williamsburg.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Williamsburg, Va., May 19.—Memorial services will be held in Bruton Parish Church to-morrow night at 8 o'clock, in honor of King Edward. Efforts are being made to have an address by an English clergyman of Richmond. King Edward presented a handsome Bible to the congregation of Bruton Parish at the time of the restoration of the church, and sent the Bishop of London here as a personal representative of His Majesty. The King also sent a verbal message to the members of the parish, and to the people of America, which was delivered by the distinguished English prelate.

Frightened Chicken Thieves.
Chicken thieves were frightened away last night from the residence at 1909

Floyd Avenue, where they had called for the purpose of robbing an evil visitation. But they were frightened away, and officers who were called to the scene from the Second District found only an empty house in the yard. The thieves got into the roost, but did not have time enough in which to pull the rooster down.

UNDERTAKERS IN SESSION

Dr. E. C. Levy and Rev. H. D. C. MacInchian are the speakers. The Virginia Funeral Directors' Association met yesterday morning in the hall of the Medical College of Virginia. The reports of the association were first received, and then an address by the Rev. H. D. C. MacInchian, pastor of Seventh Street Christian Church, was heard. The address was interesting, Mr. MacInchian being a speaker of recognized merit, and was well received.

George W. Bates, of New York, then spoke of the advancement being made by the association. A motion to admit as honorary members traveling salesmen of the manufacturing houses was made, but was withdrawn after some argument.

FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Ordinance Committee to Discuss Report On This Subject To-night.
The Council Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform will meet to-night at 8 o'clock to discuss the report of the Special Committee on Changes in the Form of City Government, all of which were referred at the last meeting of the Council. The committee report provides for a paid administrative committee to do the work now done by the committee of the Council, without interfering with the legislative functions of the Council as now organized. A minority report proposes a reduction in the membership of each branch of the Council, and a dissenting opinion is for "standing pat." That is, it asserts that there is not a sufficient demand to justify any change at this time.

The report of the committee on parochial reports was read by Rev. John H. Dickinson. Among the important statistics embodied in the report were: Baptisms, 515; confirmations, 823; burials, 533; communicants, 13,818; baptized persons, 22,836; Sunday scholars, 10,437; offerings—parochial, $157,794.79; diocesan, $31,382.21; general, $18,935.15; grand total, $208,112.15.

About $10,000 will be required to meet the expenses of the coming year. The importance of careful collections of the contingent fund was urged. The report recommended that the present method of collecting the fund be continued. This is one of the most important matters before the Council, there being a wide divergence of opinion on this subject.

Reference was made to the death of Rev. D. C. T. Davis, and Rev. Carter Page, of Charlottesville.

When the council adjourned at the close of the morning session, the ministers and delegates were the guests of Bishop Gibson at his residence at 906 Park Avenue.

During the afternoon session the method of collecting the contingent fund was discussed. The committee on canons recommended that the present plan be continued for one year, and a committee be appointed to consider and report at the next council.

The report of the committee on St. Anne's School was discussed at length. Several delegates made appeals for continuing the school, and it was stated that its success is assured.

The General Canons.
Consideration of the general canons of the church, which will be considered at the Triennial Convention General in Cincinnati next October, occupied much time. Rev. James W. Morris, D. D., as Bishop-Coadjutor of Maryland; Rev. John J. Gravatt, Jr., Rev. Russell Bowles and Rev. Guy Douglas Christian had been recommended for priests' orders, and John Henry Scott and S. Alonso Morgan, colored, were recommended for deacons' orders; Paul Micoiu and George Victor Bell have been recommended for holy orders. These, with the last two, were ordained during the year.

Rev. R. A. Goodwin moved that canon 7 be amended so that the bishop-coadjutor and three members of the finance committee should constitute a committee on invested funds of the diocese.

The Council adjourned at 11 o'clock, when Rev. J. J. Wilkins, of New York, preached a sermon. His subject was the $5,000,000 clergy relief fund of the church. The purpose is to raise that amount, the income from which is to be applied to furnishing salaries to the clergy who have reached the age of sixty-four years. Ten bishops, fifteen other clergy and twenty laymen have been appointed a committee to manage the distribution of the money. About $300,000 has already been raised. Rev. Mr. Wilkins made a strong plea for the cause, which he said is one of the most righteous under consideration of the church.

Restore Colonial Churches.
Bishop Gibson finished reading his address during the morning session. Among the recommendations made was the full restoration of the colonial churches of the diocese. Steps have already been taken in reference to old St. John's, King William county; Farmhouse, Richmond county; and Lamb's Creek, King George. The scope and worthiness of the disabled clergy fund was referred to.

Reference was made to the death of Rev. D. C. T. Davis, and Rev. Carter Page, of Charlottesville.

official name of the church "Protestant Episcopal" placed in the constitution. The resolution advocating a change to the preamble to the constitution was opposed by Rev. E. L. Goodwin, Rev. Landon R. Mason, Judge A. W. Wallace, and was advocated by Rev. R. A. Goodwin and Rev. Morris Eagle.

The meeting in the interest of general missions was largely attended last night. Services were conducted by Rev. John J. Gravatt, D. D. Bishop Gibson presided and introduced the speakers. Rev. William D. Smith, the first speaker, recently attended the great meeting in Chicago held under the auspices of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. The information gained there qualified him to speak with authority. Other speakers were: Eugene C. Massey, Oliver J. Sands, president of the Laymen's Missionary Movement in Richmond, and Bishop-Coadjutor A. S. Lloyd, D. D., who closed the discussion.

To-day the debate on the preamble to the constitution, where expressions are regarded by some as vague and misleading, will be continued. Deputies to the General Convention will be elected and doubtless the new Sunday school canon will be acted upon. The council will probably close to-night.
